Connaissances préalables recommandées

Minimum level B2.1 on the Common European Framework of Reference.

Objectifs

At the end of the semester, students will be able to:

- understand and take notes on authentic oral English texts with speakers who have a range of different accents
- read, understand and summarise complex texts on the core themes
- plan, structure and write business formal texts, including using a range of linking words
- use a range of formal lexis appropriately in written English
- prepare a debate on one of the core themes in the module
- be aware of the functions of modal verbs used for suggestions/advice/criticism and to express obligation/lack of obligation, and use them accurately
- understand and be able to use a specified range of verbs and prepositions appropriately
- assess their own strengths and weaknesses in English and set further learning goals

Topics: Mergers and Acquisitions, Ethics and Corporate Social Responsibility

In the final module, all students should reach B2.2 or C1. Students will focus on preparing a debate in groups on a subject of their choice relating to one of the main topics. In writing, the focus is on summarising information from a variety of authentic sources and media, and synthesising the information in report form. Students are expected to develop a range of formal vocabulary for written texts and a high level of accuracy. The grammar studied in the module should allow students to increase their range and complexity of structures. Students should now be able to understand a wide range of spoken English with different accents. Reading comprehension is also based on more complex texts from a range of sources.
